TAKE-TWO INTERACTIVE SOFTWARE INCORPORATED
COMPUTER SOFTWARE MATTERS

Synopsis: Opening of [redacted]

b7E

Details: On August 16, 2010 [redacted] of Take-Two Interactive Software Incorporated (Take-Two) called the Louisville Division of the FBI. [redacted] said Take-Two had hired ICG Incorporated (ICG) to monitor the internet for ripped copies of Take-Two Interactive's video game Red Dead Redemption before the game's initial release.

b6
b7C

ICG observed a member of the web forum xbox360iso.com using the screen name [redacted], who made several posts documenting the steps he had taken to rip Red Dead Redemption. [redacted] also posted links for the forum members to download a copy of the ripped game and posted links to pictures as evidence it was from a real copy of the game. The pictures were located on photobucket.com. One of the pictures in [redacted] photobucket account showed a command prompt with the user name [redacted]. Furthermore, [redacted] offered to "mod" Xboxes for other forum members. ICG shipped an Xbox360 to [redacted] and it was returned modified. The address [redacted] used to receive the Xbox from ICG was [redacted]

Yeah links should be up in about an hour so should be usenet by this evening and then there will be hundreds of release groups re upping it saying it's there leak lol

matthewy2 14.05.2010 18:19 #

Hope so I been FSing usenet and scene sites last couple of days, hyped for this game I same here. ive had the rss feeds going.
Im waiting for ufc to.
I will actually play the copy of this and if its good ill buy it for the ps3.
same with ufc

sp0c 14.05.2010 18:39 #

Got this on pre-order, will still get it off the groups for a preview tho

Appearing on newsgroups now as "slvrdr"

sn0z 14.05.2010 20:21 #

The MU links been up a while on that site, and seems someone is uploading it now to a.b.g.xbox360

Search for Red_Dead_Redemption_USA_XB360ISO They are 1gb rar's btw, same way that guy @ xb360iso uploaded them to MU as. Once I got I will confirm if it works or not.

Edit

All 1gb ish rars are up now.

ie: [a.b.g.xbox360@EFNet]-[Red.Dead.Redemption.READINFO.RF.XBOX360]-[5/7]-"slvrdr part5.rar" yEnc

OK if you're impatient go ahead and get this.
This is the original 7 links thanks to silverman at xbox360iso who spent 14 hours uploading to MU so thanks a lot to him for that.
The password to extract is: xbox360iso.com
Pars will not be posted until later. So 1 part missing on a shitty provider = download 1gb again.
Or wait an hour and I will repack into 100mb rars with pars which and no password is which a lot easier but you will have to wait an hour roughly.
I will still post pars for this but not until the other one is done.
this is REGION FREE.

Just sticking on a usb hdd to give it a go just need to work out how to get rid of the wife and kids for the evening/weekend

prezzy 14.05.2010 21:49 #

this works fine

fe_man2000 15.05.2010 01:31 #

oh god I am enjoying this game - really nice graphics - open world - I cant stop doing fat full of dollars type noises when I am playing.

matthewy2 15.05.2010 01:33 #

just read playing this game has already caused bans. so if u dont want to get banned stay away

Omporn 15.05.2010 02:25 #

Does this require 9199?

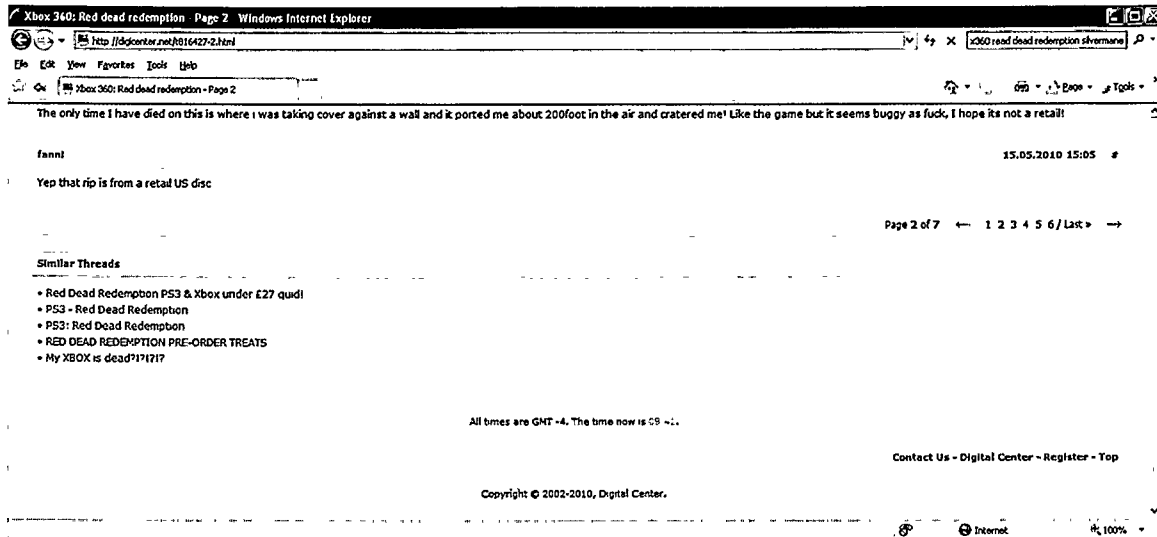

Edit: No it doesn't...

dennyboy 15.05.2010 12:14 #

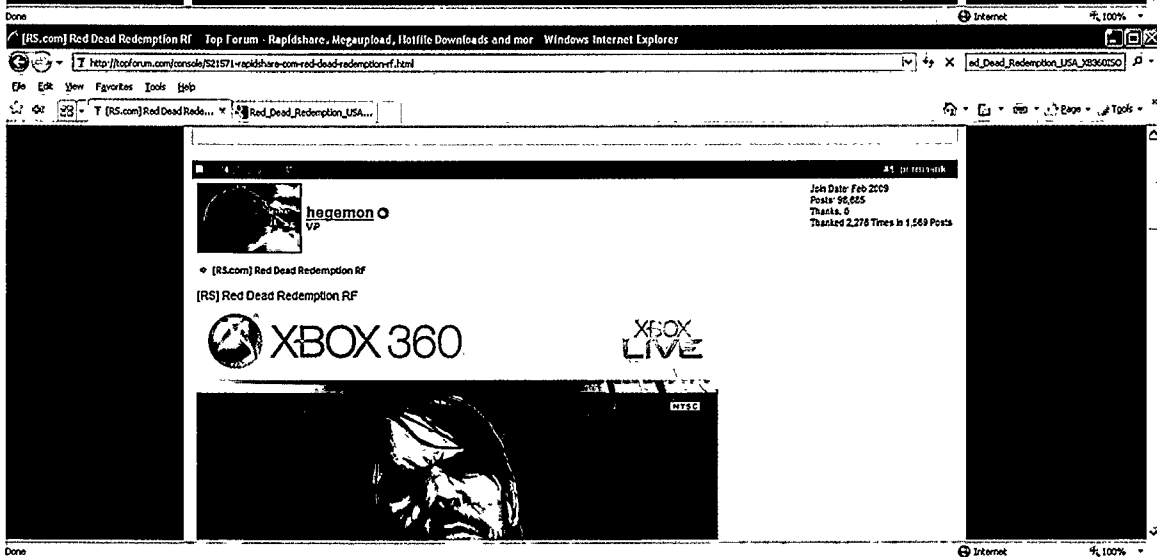

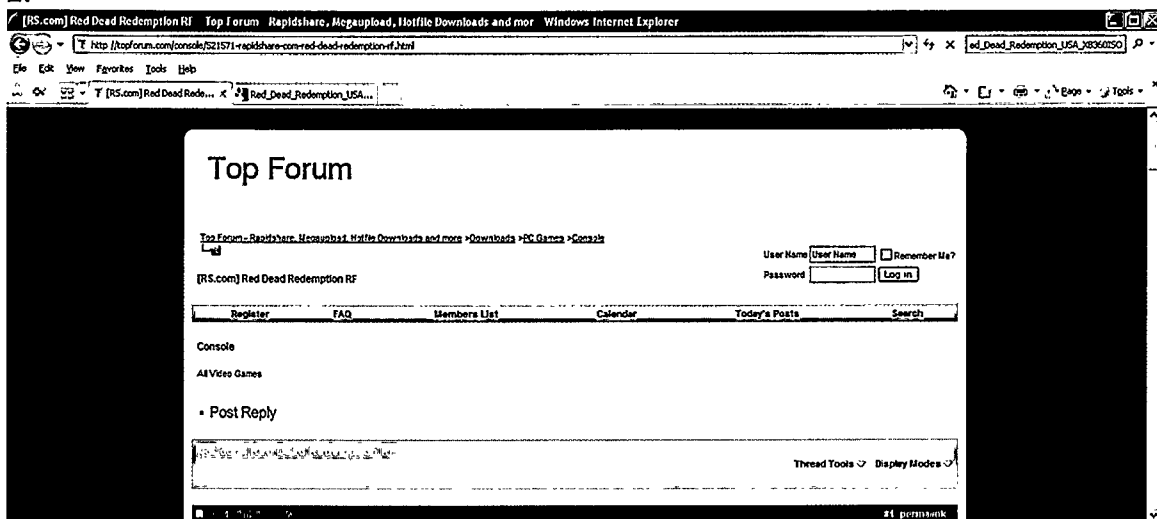

Had a quick go last night and loved it, definite buy for me next week! The atmosphere is spot on and everything just feel right, although the horses took a bit of getting used to. Very GTA like though with the letters and icons on the map etc. Looking forward to multiplayer next week

The only time I have died on this is where I was taken over against a wall and it noted me about 200ft in the air and raptured me! I like the game but it seems funny as fuck. I huna it's not a retail Know your stuff before you post false information!

I agree a heat gun is the best way to fix a 360 for someone who can't afford a BGA reflow station.

Freezing and colorful blocks means the gpu probably has cold solder joints. The main reason it worked when you tightened the heat sinks really hard is because there was probably a broken solder joint and the tightening simply bridged the connection.

I run my heat gun at 750 degrees for 3 minutes to get full liquidity and have a 98.9% success rate the other 1.1 percent are usually the 0022 errors.

the oven fix is a bad idea unless you have the timing right or else you'll blow caps and the your really screwed.

yes you can burn the solder but you can't burn it off lol cold solder is caused by tons of heating and cooling, at which point solder loses its metallic bonding properties which makes it no longer adhere to the copper pads on the gpu and cpu especially with lead free solder.

but the best method of re-flowing by far is infrared heating but not a lot of people can afford the 3000 dollar price tag for the proper unit and please quit telling people to put it in the oven that is for people that have done it before everybodys oven is different what may work for one person may not work for another and in my opinion it is a last resort.

 and always always add a 12 volt fan mod on fixed xboxes if you don't it'll red ring again within a couple weeks if not sooner it takes about 20 minutes to rip a retail copy.

it takes a couple hours to pack it in rar format.usually around 4 to 5 hours then depending on a persons upload speed it takes about 12 to 15 hours to upload * ruffly an hour to 2 hours per file if you do 7 files

I had a guy that said he has it he lives in florence ky so if hes willing to let me borrow it ill rip it and upload it for everybody. but he hasent txt me back since yesterday so i doubt he was telling the truth and he said hes a member on here so if hes reading this pm me. "IF YOUR TELLING THE TRUTH"

plus i still have 1 more *&^%#@!$ manager that got his box modded by me and im waiting to hear back from him. Hes hooked me up in the past with early releases to rip so i hope he'll do it again.

The meijers in florence kentucky on houston rd got 10 copies in last night so if any of you know some one that works there pm me so i can "BORROW" a copy and rip it. I cant try because the same security prick kicked me out this morning he got me before i even got to the electronics counter lol.

Re: red dead console ban?

i got 86ed because they said i keep trying to get games early which is a 50,000 dollar fine and they know that half their employees arent game savvy and don't know release dates. I didnt get arrested and i didnt have to fill out any 86 forms so ima try again after 5pm. Iva still got 2 chances cause i know 2 gamestop managers that are modding buddies of mine im just waiting to hear back from them to see if they have balls enough to grab a copy to let me borrow for an hour so i can rip it and give it back. They wouldnt do it with alan wake so i doubt theyll do it with rdr but ive got my fingers crossed

Re: Modding Fall

No offense but why don't you try modding more than just one drive before you start trying to pass yourself off as a modder and charge people for it. I don't know if i speak for just myself but we all learned from reading tutorials , youtube and just plain trial and error.

Just a word of advice"You might want to put 400$ bucks in the bank to buy your first customer a new xbox"

All the tutorials are self explanatory, step for step and have pretty little pictures. Its one thing to ask for help its another for us to give you all the answers and the easy way out so you can make a quick buck.

Secondly next time you ask you might want to leave the whole i got customers lined up bit out "Because you'll be lucky to get help with that comment"

3rd if you can't understand the information thats out there then you don't need to mod it's as simple as that!!!!!!!!!!!!!! ☹ if you live in an apartment complex put up flyers in each buildings front door and sell dvds for 5 bucks a pop. I personally make around 2900$ every time a new movie comes out. My biggest sellers are full box sets of the entire Disney, Pixar and dreamworks collections. I think I've made about 5 grand in the last 2 weeks because of christmas. I buy my dvd's by the case i pay about 150 bucks for a case of 1500 {Caution!!!! this is however a little unethical...} believe it or not half the citys police are some of my best customers and ive been doin this since vhs tapes.

Re: Need to Make more money...

Re: Need to Make more money...

yeah lol i think ill start doing that with friends and crap but posting and advertising that is a little dangerous at least until you have a good base of customers. I was notified by microsoft investigators to stop on craigslist with mods and games lol. I could keep this low key

Re: Court ruling forces Mininova to end illegal torrents

We'll do what we always do we'll "ADAPT" as long as the internet is alive there will always be brilliant people out there looking for loop holes and exploits. The internet isn't just a place to share files its a connection to the outside world and a connection to share minds . It costs them millions of dollars in man power alone, they have to stay within the legal perimeters of what the government and our civil rights allow. We however have no jurisdiction or rules we create our own. We have guidelines but no true rules and as long as a personal computer is affordable and internet accessible we will always win. For we are many we have an unlimited cheap resource at our fingertips and all the knowledge we could ever need at the click of a mouse. Let them put up road blocks and scare us I say bring it on because they'll never be able to stop all of us

Re: People who have spent lots of money on DLC etc, not getting banned as much ?

Ive got all and yes i mean all the arcades i buy 5 yrs worth of live each time when 360 came out i had 2 years worth of gold membership that transferred over. Plus tons of add ons so i dont know its highly possible i haven't been hit by the ban hammer "YET" But then again i have 13 consoles registered on the xbox site although my modded console is not registered tell me something, how old is the console which people have had bans on?

Re: People who have spent lots of money on DLC etc, not getting banned as much ?

maybe something to do with the new hardware itself and not the drive fw etc.

Re: (MU) Borderlands Region Free

just to let everybody know i have been playing the burnt copy of this all week and still no ban i sold the retail back. so i dont think its my copy but if you need some one to blame go ahead and blame this game i guess. Dont blame the fact that your console has been modded for god knows how long. and how many wave 4 games that you have played using the activate disc.also i never update my console without a retail game in the drive. by the way terminator thanks for the backup.

Re: [ <>Graphics Shop<> ][SCARYFACE - LOGIE - WEREZ - BASH]

I Need an awesome Banner for my respect is everything 360 clan forums can some one please help. It needs to have a shield and skull in the middle with two crossed guns and the rest i dont really care about just as long as it looks friggin bad *** the color scheme we use is red and black. Im willing to compensate the sweeter it looks the more ill pay and yes with real money!!!! Plus if it could be an animated banner that would be even sweeter... our main games are cod4, cod5, chrome hounds, phantasy star, cod5 zombies, basically any first person shooter

Also i'm looking to get an animated mural our clan leader and creator passed away a couple months ago and we as a clan really want to commemorate his memory. Our idea for the mural was to have a ghost image of him on the ww2 memorial wall with his name etched in it and a large group of at the bottom solders holdin flickering candles in the air

P.s. Our moto is "Respect!!!! You Give It !!! You Get It !!!"
PM me with a price and a sample

Re: Homemade Lite-on keygrabber "with pictures"

For me its all about my wallet I wanted my drive flashed and didn't have the money or the patience to buy one off the internet, and all the schematics out there are a little confusing so i figured I'd put a design out that everybody could understand easily Posts merged - please don't double post!

No connectivity kit required, do you know how to put it in vendor mode. When you turn it on eject the tray unplug the power to the dvd rom drive. Do not turn off or unplug the xbox just unplug the drive itself. Push the drive tray back in and plug it back in your xbox lite will blink if you did it correctly run jungleflasher dvdkey place the tip of the logic probe in the hole above the R707 resistor, then click get key and there you have it you have your new key. Run firmware tool 32 and load your dummy file iextreme 1.51 will load automatically as long as you have the new jungle flasher installed. Then run MTK flash 32 and hit lite-on erase it will erase your original firmware after that it will try to run the device intro, it will fail. Click device intro then hit yes Then hit ok. Quickly unplug the drive and plug it back in and viola you have yourself a newly modded Lite-on drive

COMPUTER SOFTWARE MATTERS

Synopsis: Document meeting to discuss financial impact of pirated copy of software release.

Details: On October 4, 2010 [ ] of Take Two Interactive and [ ] of the Electronic Software Association (ESA) spoke telephonically with the writer to discuss data collected by ESA on copies of the Take-Two Interactive's video game Red Dead Redemption being provided online for free download.

b6
b7C

ESA provided reports showing the availability of Red Dead Redemption for free download both on the Web and as part of Peer to Peer (P2P) networks. The Web reports provided counts of links to download copies of Red Dead Redemption identified by an ESA application. The P2P report provided counts of copies of Red Dead Redemption being shared in P2P environments identified by an ESA application (for example EDonkey or Bit Torrent). [ ] said a very conservative estimate would be over 100,000 copies of Red Dead Redemption had been illegally downloaded, based on data collected. [ ] went on to say the ESA application was not able to determine if the copies identified in the report were derivatives of the copy originally posted by the subject. [ ] added that based on his experience, once a good stable copy is released, the trend is to reuse the initial copy instead of performing the process again.

Synopsis: (U) Provide count and information on pirated downloads of Red Dead Redemption uploaded by subject.

Enclosure(s): (U) Five printouts of the five websites documented in the details of the EC.

Details: (U//LES) SA [REDACTED] requested a count of the number of times the Xbox360 Red Dead Redemption game, which was uploaded by the captioned subject to the internet, was downloaded by others. As of 1348 hours on 15 February 2011, 15,722 downloads were identified. Analyst Note: After multiple daily reviews on 9 and 10 February 2011 and 14 and 15 February 2011 of the websites to which the Xbox360 Red Dead Redemption game is uploaded, writer notes the number of downloads increases approximately every few minutes as others continue to download this Xbox360 Red Dead Redemption game.

Red Dead Redemption (2010) (RF)

Red Dead Redemption is an open-world, third-person, action-adventure game set at the tail end of the American West era. Action takes place in the first few years of the twentieth century and revolves around the choices that the protagonist, former outlaw John Marston, is forced to make due to his blemished past. The game features a morality system assigning honor and fame points generated through the player's choices. It also features Wild West themed mini-games, new targeting and cover systems, extensive horse riding abilities, a wealth of period specific weapons and more than 40 huntable animals.

Story

Red Dead Redemption is a Western epic, set at the turn of the 20th century when the lawless and chaotic badlands began to give way to the expanding reach of government and the spread of the Industrial Age. A follow up to the 2004 hit Red Dead Revolver, this game tells the story of former outlaw John Marston, taking players on a great adventure across the American frontier.

Gameplay

Red Dead Redemption is a third-person action-adventure game set a fictional open-world American Wild West environment for players to explore. Gameplay area types include frontier towns, rolling prairies teaming with wildlife, and perilous mountain passes - each packed with an endless flow of varied distractions. Along the way, players will experience the heat of gunfights and battles, meet a host of unique characters, struggle against the elements and animals of one of the world's last remaining wildernesses, and ultimately pick their own precarious path through an epic story about the death of the Wild West and the gunslingers that inhabited it. In their travels throughout the territories of the gameworld players partake in a morality system built on honor and fame, where they gain or lose points in each area based on their actions. The game features an easy to use cover system, a variety of mounts and period specific weapons including a cattleman revolver, a mauser pistol, a repeater rifle, a sawed-off shotgun, a throwing knife, a lasso and more. Western themed mini-games are also available, including showdowns, gambling, hunting bounties, cattle herding and five finger fillet.

Key Game Features

Expansive open-world gameplay set in the final years of the American Wild West.

Massive play area made up 3 unique regions composed of towns and outposts filled with characters with varying looks, accents, etc.

Morality system based on honor and fame generated by the players actions throughout the game.

Loads of unique non-player characters to interact with.

AFFIDAVIT

I,  being duly sworn, depose and state:

b6
b7C

1. I am a Special Agent with the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) assigned to the Criminal Computer Intrusion Squad of the Louisville Division. The FBI has employed me for approximately two years. I have over seven years of experience working with computers, to include three years as a database programmer, and three years as a performance testing engineer. As a Special Agent of the FBI, I am authorized to investigate crimes involving computer intrusions, internet fraud, identity theft, and Intellectual Property crime.

2. I am familiar with the information contained in this affidavit from information provided to me by Internet Crimes Group Incorporated (ICG) Investigators, other agents of the FBI, my personal experience in investigating on-line fraud and other crimes, and public source information available on the Internet. This affidavit is intended to show merely that there is sufficient probable cause for the requested warrant and does not purport to set forth all of my knowledge of or investigation into this matter.

3. This affidavit is offered in support of an application to secure a warrant for the SUBJECT PREMISES located at 1310 Tamarack Circle, Apartment H, Florence, Kentucky, in order to search for and seize laptops, electronic storage media, cameras, cellular telephones, and other evidence of criminal activity, concerning the offenses of Title 17 U.S.C § 506 (Criminal Copyright Infringement), Title 17 U.S.C. §1201 (Circumvention of Copyright Protection Systems), and to further examine the contents of any computers seized.

APPLICABLE STATUTES

4. Title 17 U.S.C. § 1201 (Circumvention of Copyright Protection Systems) provides in part:

(2) No person shall manufacture, import, offer to the public, provide, or otherwise traffic in any technology, product, service, device, component, or part thereof, that—

(A) is primarily designed or produced for the purpose of circumventing a technological measure that effectively controls access to a work protected under this title;

(B) has only limited commercially significant purpose or use other than to circumvent a technological measure that effectively controls access to a work protected under this title; or

(C) is marketed by that person or another acting in concert with that person with that person's knowledge for use in circumventing a technological measure that effectively controls access to a work protected under this title.

5. Title 17 U.S.C. § 506 (Criminal Infringement) provides:

(1) In general. — Any person who willfully infringes a copyright shall be punished as provided under section 2319 of Title 18, if the infringement was committed—

(A) for purposes of commercial advantage or private financial gain;

(B) by the reproduction or distribution, including by electronic means, during any 180-day period, of 1 or more copies or phonorecords of 1 or more copyrighted works, which have a total retail value of more than $1,000; or

(C) by the distribution of a work being prepared for commercial distribution, by making it available on a computer network accessible to members of the public, if such person knew or should have known that the work was intended for commercial distribution

TECHNICAL BACKGROUND

6. In my training and experience, I have learned that a modification of game consoles (i.e. Xbox360) will allow the user to play copied games therefore circumventing the copyright protection built into the console by the manufacturer. These copyrighted video games are also posted to the internet where individuals can download them for no cost.

THE SCHEME

7. The subject made several posts to the website Xbox360is.com documenting his efforts to obtain a copy of the video game Red Dead Redemption, developed and manufactured by Take-Two Interactive, in an effort to make a copy of the game available for free download on the internet. The subject also made several posts on the website Xbox360iso.com that he modified Xbox360 game consoles so the game console would play copied games and as a result circumvent the copyright protection of the Xbox360 game console. Additionally, the subject advertised on the website Craigslist to modify Xbox360 game consoles or to sell already modified Xbox360 game consoles, for the purpose of circumventing a technological measure that effectively controls access to a work, in violation of Title 17 U.S.C. § 1201. This allows the circumventing of the copyright protection built into the device allowing the console to play illegally copied games.

DETAILS OF THE INVESTIGATION

8. ICG, a private internet Intellectual Property Right investigative firm, was hired to investigate illegally posted copies of the video game Red Dead Redemption by Take-Two Interactive. ICG is recognized as a provider of intelligence and threat management solutions to Global 2500 corporations and law firms. ICG observed the user, using the screen name of [REDACTED] on the website Xbox360iso.com, post several remarks documenting his efforts to obtain a copy of the video game Red Dead Redemption in order to make it available on the internet for free download and about modifying the Xbox360 game consoles to play copied video games. ICG and Take-Two Interactive brought the information to the attention of the Louisville Division of the FBI. The Louisville Division of the FBI was able to observe the identical postings on the website Xbox360iso.com made by a [REDACTED] which established the reliability of the information provided by them. Additionally, [REDACTED] [REDACTED] were verified by the FBI through a subpoena to [REDACTED]

9. From May 10, 2010 through May 14, 2010, the user [REDACTED] made several posts to the website Xbox360iso.com detailing his efforts to obtain a copy of the video game "Red Dead Redemption" prior to the game's official release date. The following is one of the several posts made during this time:

May 10, 2010 "i got 86ed because they said i keep trying to get games early which is a 50,000 dollar fine and they know that half their employees arent game savvy and don't know release dates. I didnt get arrested and i didnt have to fill out any 86 forms so ima try again after 5pm. Ive still got 2 chances cause i know 2 gamestop managers that are modding buddies of mine im just waiting to hear back from them to see if they have balls enough to grab a copy to let me borrow for an hour so i can rip it and give it back. They wouldnt do it with alan wake so i doubt theyll do it with rdr but ive got my fingers crossed"

10. On May 13, 2010, the user [REDACTED] posted pictures showing proof he had obtained a copy of the video game Red Dead Redemption and had successfully made a copy of the video game. One of the pictures included a screen shot showing the file path "c:\users\ [REDACTED] Desktop\silverborder.iso".

b6

11. On May 14, 2010, the user [REDACTED] posted seven links allowing people to download a copy of the video game Red Dead Redemption for free. ICG downloaded the files posted on the internet and determined the MD5<sup>1</sup> to be 0aece43fb3f6eb873133e4bfae2d93a7 and the SHA1<sup>2</sup> to be 4495f490c183c664c9e4ec1cc1ca82ee5fedd2f7. As of February 2, 2011 internet searches showed five web sites providing copies of Red Dead Redemption for free download. The files on these web sites matched both the MD5 and SHA1 of the original uploads made by the user using the screen name [REDACTED] According to these web sites the total number of downloads as of February 2, 2011, was over 13,000 downloads.

12. ICG observed several posts to the website Xbox360iso.com about modifying Xbox360 game consoles made by the user [REDACTED] On June 2, 2010, ICG contacted the user and asked if he would modify an Xbox360 to allow it to play illegally copied video games. On June 10, 2010, [REDACTED] responded to ICG's inquiry with a price quote of $35 for modifying an Xbox360. Additionally, [REDACTED] offered two already modified Xbox360 consoles for sale.

14. On June 18, 2010, when the user [redacted] returned the Xbox360 game consoles, the return information was listed as [redacted] phone [redacted] and was shipped from a UPS store in Florence, Kentucky. As of February 2, 2011 records checks show [redacted] [redacted] still maintains his residence at [redacted] [redacted] and his vehicle was present in front of the apartment building. As of February 2, 2011, the most recent activity on the web site Xbox360iso.com by the user using the screen name [redacted] was a post on January 28, 2011. The poster requested information from any other Xbox360iso.com members about obtaining assistance to fix an illegally modified Xbox360 game console which he had, that did not have the standard DVD drive, and was not working properly.

15. Based upon the Affiant's knowledge, experience, and training in Intellectual Property investigations and the training and experience of other law enforcement officers with whom I have had discussions, there are certain characteristics common to individuals involved in the illegal distribution of copyrighted material:

- a. Individuals who have produced copyrighted material for download usually maintain the copyrighted material on their computers. Additionally due to the size of the files and the reliability of the internet links the copyrighted material is frequently maintained on external storage devices (for example but not limited to DVDs, USB thumb drives, and external hard drives).
- b. Individuals who distribute copyrighted material frequently download other copyrighted material from other sources on the internet.

- c. Individuals who distribute copyrighted material may also correspond with other individuals who maintain and distribute copyrighted material on the internet.

16. If a computer or storage medium is found on the SUBJECT PREMISES, there is probable cause to believe the aforementioned records/information will currently be stored on that computer or storage medium, for the following reasons:

- a. Based on my knowledge, training, and experience, I know that computer files or remnants of such files can be recovered months or even years after they have been downloaded onto a storage medium, deleted, or viewed via the Internet.

Electronic files downloaded to a storage medium can be stored for years at little or no cost. Even when files have been deleted, they can be recovered months or years later using forensic tools. This is so because when a person "deletes" a file on a computer, the data contained in the file does not actually disappear; rather, that data remains on the storage medium until it is overwritten by new data.

- b. Therefore, deleted files, or remnants of deleted files, may reside in free space or slack space-that is, in space on the storage medium that is not currently being used by an active file-for long periods of time until they are overwritten. In addition, a computer's operating system may also keep a record of deleted data in a "swap" or "recovery" file.

- c. Wholly apart from user-generated files, computer storage media-in particular, computers' internal hard drives-contain electronic evidence of how a computer has been used, what it has been used for, and who has used it. For example, this forensic evidence can take the form of operating system configurations, artifacts from operating system or application operation, file system data structures, and virtual memory "swap" or paging files. Computer users typically cannot erase or delete this evidence, because special software is typically required for that task.

- d. Similarly, files that have been viewed via the Internet are sometimes automatically downloaded into a temporary Internet directory or "cache."

17. Based upon the foregoing, there is probable cause to believe that evidence related to the aforementioned scheme will be located within the SUBJECT PREMISES. Therefore, I am seeking authority to seize such evidence including, but not limited to: Computers, laptops, electronic storage media, cameras, cell phones, financial records pertaining to  involvement in the purchasing and sale of copyrighted material, wire transfer receipts, and receipts for shipping, and to further examine the contents of any computers seized.

b6

SEIZING AND SEARCHING COMPUTERS

18. Searches and seizures of evidence from computers commonly require agents to download or copy information from the computers and their components, or seize most or all computer items (computer hardware, computer software, and computer related documentation) to be processed later by a qualified computer expert in a laboratory or other controlled environment. This is almost always true because of the following:

- a. Computer storage devices (like internal or external hard disk drives, compact discs (CD), digital video disc (DVD), flash drives, and others) can store the equivalent of millions of pages of information. Especially when the user wants to conceal criminal evidence, he or she often stores it in random order with deceptive file names. This requires searching authorities to examine all the stored data to determine whether it is included in the warrant. This sorting process can take days or weeks, depending on the volume of data stored, and it would be generally impossible to accomplish this kind of data search on site; and

- b. Searching computer systems for criminal evidence is a highly technical process requiring expert skill and a properly controlled environment. The vast array of computer hardware and software available requires even computer experts to specialize in some systems and applications, so it is difficult to know before a search which expert should analyze the system and its data. The search of a computer system is an exacting scientific procedure which is designed to protect the integrity of the evidence and to recover even hidden, erased, compressed, password-protected, or encrypted files. Since computer evidence is extremely vulnerable to tampering or destruction (which may be caused by malicious code or normal activities of an operating system), the controlled environment of a laboratory is essential to its complete and accurate analysis.

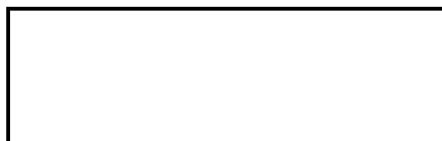

19. In searching any digital storage media, we will, to the extent possible, use computers and forensic software to conduct the searches. The search procedure of electronic data contained in computer hardware, computer software, and/or memory storage devices may include the following techniques (the following is a non-exclusive list, as other search procedures may be used):

- a. Performing key word searches through all electronic storage areas to determine whether occurrences of language contained in such storage areas exist that are likely to appear in the evidence described in Attachment B; and/or
- b. Surveying various file directories and the individual files they contain;
- c. Scanning storage areas;

- d. Searching for and attempting to recover any deleted, hidden, or encrypted data to determine whether that data falls within the list of items to be seized as set forth herein (any data that is encrypted and unreadable will not be returned unless law enforcement personnel have determined that the data is not (1) an instrumentality of the offenses, (2) a fruit of the criminal activity, (3) contraband, (4) otherwise unlawfully possessed, or (5) evidence of the offenses specified above);
- e. Examination of all of the data contained in such computer hardware, computer software, and/or memory storage devices to view the data and determine whether that data falls within the items to be seized as set forth herein;
- f. Opening files in order to determine their contents;
- g. Performing any other data analysis technique that may be necessary to locate and retrieve the evidence described in Attachment B.

PREMISES TO BE SEARCHED

20. As the photograph attached to Exhibit A shows, the property in question is a three-story apartment building, with a brick face center, with wood panel outer sections. It has a blue awning with 1310 in white numbers. Apartment H is the first door on the right up the initial flight of stairs. The door is off-white with a gold letter H.

LIST OF ITEMS TO BE SEIZED

Evidence, instrumentalities, fruits and contraband concerning violations of Title 17 U.S.C. § 506 (Criminal Infringement) and Title 17 U.S.C. 1201 (Circumvention of Copyright Protection Systems), as follows:

1. Computers, computer hardware, any external storage devices, portable media, documentation, cameras, phones, video game consoles, and/or DVDs or video game DVDs .
2. Information and records, in whatever form and specifically including the data within any seized computer, regarding communications with others on the topics of modified game consoles, copied videogames, and the posting of copyrighted material on the internet.
3. Financial records pertaining to involvement in the purchasing and sale of copyrighted materials. Records of payments received or shipping of modifying game consoles.
4. Evidence of who used, owned, or controlled the COMPUTER at the time the evidence was created, edited, or deleted, such as logs, registry entries, configuration files, saved usernames and passwords, documents, browsing history, user profiles, email, email contacts, "chat," instant messaging logs, photographs, and correspondence;
5. Evidence of software that would allow others to control the COMPUTER, such as viruses, Trojan horses, and other forms of malicious software, as well as evidence of the presence or absence of security software designed to detect malicious software, and evidence of the lack of such malicious software;
6. Evidence of the attachment to the COMPUTER of other storage devices or similar containers for electronic evidence;
7. Evidence of counter-forensic programs (and associated data) that are designed to eliminate data from the COMPUTER, and Passwords, encryption keys, and other access devices that may be necessary to access the COMPUTER;
8. Evidence of the times the COMPUTER was used;

9. Documentation and manuals that may be necessary to access the COMPUTER or to conduct a forensic examination of the COMPUTER

[REDACTED] said he knew the website xbox360iso.com had problems late last year and believed it to be the result of "an email bomb". [REDACTED] added he did hear a rumor that problems were actually the result of the web hoster being under investigation and taking down the site.

[REDACTED] advised he used to advertise on Craigslist.com his services to modify Xbox360 game consoles. [REDACTED] said he would modify about ten xbox game consoles a week for about three years and charged $35 per modification. [REDACTED] described the modifications he performed as software modifications or "soft mods" and that the exact type of modification would depend on the manufacture of the hard drive. [REDACTED] said he got out of the business about eight months ago. [REDACTED] stated the customers were hard to do business with, he provided examples of an individual bringing a gun into his house, another individual pulled a knife, and another individual tried to pay with drugs. [REDACTED] added he turned down the drugs.
